Our Home "River-erview,"

Is for sale. Mr. Elliott and family are to vacate it May 1st, and it is larger than we can occupy to advantage. It is by far the best home in this city and it is hard to duplicate (everything considered) in the United States for the money it costs. The site is superb. It embraces ten full city lots 4 by 8 rods. The house and barn are every way right. It is worthy the attention of any one seeking a first class home. As we before said, we will sell it and will give possession May 1st.

We have an architect working on plans for a smaller but equally good house, to be built for ourselves directly opposite "River-view," and if we can sell this we shall have it built to occupy by July 15th.

This is an unusually attractive opportunity. Come and see us.

Yours very truly,

Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

Our Home Journal

"The Home" has been a source of much pleasure to us and that it has not been of much profit in way of money, cuts no figure. But owing to the fact that we are driven in our other lines of work and that we are to lose the editorial assistance of Mr. Elliott, we have concluded to abandon the publication of the same. Friends who have paid for 1891 can have their quarter by calling at our office. Thanking our readers and promising that they shall hear from us frequently in some form, we are

Yours very truly,

Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

Never Before

Were we so well fixed to meet Home seekers and lot buyers as we are at this time. Any one desiring a home can get it if they will call on us, at terms so easy that they must buy. A few very choice lots for sale on South Main Street and in Glen-Etta and Riverview Park.

Yours very truly,

ANNA SAYS SHE IS SANE

Miss Dickinson's Startling Charges Against Relatives SHE TELLS A SENSATIONAL STORY.

The Noted Female Orator Accuses Her Sister of Causing Her Incarceration in an Asylum Through Feelings of Jealousy.

HER TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

New York, April 10.—The New York Herald publishes a startling story relative to the incarceration of Miss Anna Dickinson, the famous lecturer. The Herald says that Miss Dickinson came to New York Thursday night, Dr. Frederick W. Seward, of Goshen, N. Y., at whose house she has been since she escaped from Danville, April 2. They came for the purpose of apprising Miss Dickinson's friends in New York of the wrong she said she had suffered, and to secure legal aid to the steps necessary to insure her freedom if she should return to Pennsylvania.

Miss Dickinson lays the blame for her incarceration upon her sister, whom she accuses of harboring an intense feeling of jealousy and hatred. She also accuses her sister's physician, Dr. Hildeman, of being the plot against her. Miss Dickinson says that on the day on which she was removed to an asylum the door of her room was broken in and six men and a woman rushed in and overpowered her. One of the men she says was Dr. Hildeman and the woman she understands was the doctor's aunt. They announced their intention of taking her to Danville, where they said she would be better off. Miss Dickinson struggled until the skin was torn from her wrists and her garments were ripped from her back and tatters. Finally, she says, her persecutors got her hands down and tied them together, and she was compelled to submit.

Dr. Seward, it appears, became informed of the facts of the case as alleged by Miss Dickinson and obtained the release of Miss Dickinson under pretense that he intended to take her to a private asylum where she would be more benefited. Dr. Seward expressed himself as entirely confident of the sanity of Miss Dickinson, and the Herald reporter who interviewed Miss Dickinson says that her manner was calm and rational and that she at no time betrayed the least evidence of insanity.

Miss Dickinson will prosecute her sister, she says, for the mental and physical suffering she has undergone. Miss Dickinson says the Danville asylum is a horrible place. She was among the least dangerous patients, but she says when she looks back on the dreadful things she wonders she did not go insane indeed. On April 3 Dr. Seward went to the asylum and Miss Dickinson was placed in his charge. Louisa McDonald, an old family servant of the Dickinsons, accompanied her mistress and the doctor, she having gone to the asylum with Dr. Seward. Miss Dickinson has since been at Dr. Seward's house at Goshen.

Dr. Seward was reticent of his part in the affair. His only interest had been to secure justice to a woman who had been shut up in an asylum without a shadow of right. Said he: "Miss Dickinson is perfectly sane. Of that I can assure you. I have studied her case carefully and there is nothing the matter with her. I have investigated some of her statements and have found them to be true. When Miss Susan Dickinson sent for me she told me that her sister was a dangerous lunatic and I went to Danville with the expectation of seeing such a person. The moment I looked at her I was convinced that this statement at least was not true, and the quick examination established her complete sanity. I am prepared to do whatever I can to assist her in securing her rights and to aid her in the steps that are necessary to be taken."

PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

The Cases of the New Haven Directors in the General Sessions Court.

New York, April 10.—None of the indicted directors of the New Haven road appear in part 1 of the court of general sessions. It was expected that they would be on hand because their counsel were to move for a transfer of the case from the court of general sessions to the court of Oyer and Terminer. Pending the motion a stay of proceedings was obtained from Justice Barrett. The directors were represented by John M. Bowers and Henry W. Taft, with John M. Townsend, Jr., as associate counsel. Mr. Bowers entered a plea of not guilty for his clients, with the privilege of withdrawing that plea and substituting another or demurring. Mr. Bowers requested that the plea be allowed to stand until the argument on the question of removing the case to Oyer and Terminer be heard. The court hesitated to accept such a plea and the matter was adjourned ten days.

William Wallace Dead.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 10.—William Wallace, postmaster of this city, died here aged 64 years. He belonged to one of Indiana's great families, being a son of the late Gov. David Wallace, and a brother of Gen. Lew Wallace. He was at one time a law partner of President Harrison.

Mr. Wallace was one of the men who organized the republican party in Indiana, and had, since it came into existence, been prominent in the politics of the state. He had for many years been treasurer of the republican state committee.

A GREAT SCHEME.

The United States to Build a South American Railway.—A Party of Government Engineers Sail from New York to Make a Survey for a Line 3,000 Miles in Length Connecting North America with the Southern Continent.

New York, April 10.—The first material outcome of the pan-American congress to bring about a commercial amalgamation of the United States and the republics of South and Central America will have a practical demonstration at noon to-day when the steamship Newport, of the Pacific mail steamship line, sails for South America, carrying as passengers two corps of eminent engineers, thoroughly equipped to make a survey for a railway system 3,000 miles in length and extending nearly the entire length of South America.

The party will be absent for about two years. Each member of it has signed a contract agreeing to continue in the performance of his duties for not less than one year. The salaries of the engineers will be paid by the United States government. The project is to connect the systems of North America with those of the southern continent, to be conducted under the direction of a board of commissioners representing the several American republics.

The steamship Newport will carry the surveying party to Panama, where they will take the steamship to Guayaquil, the principal seaport town in Ecuador, and thence they will journey over the Andes mountains to the capital city of Quito. At a point near there work will be begun. The corps will travel southward through Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Chili, and thence into the Argentine republic, where connections can be made with the numerous existing railroad lines leading into the capital city of Buenos Ayres. Another corps will move northward through Ecuador and Colombia to the Isthmus of Panama. Each party will survey about 1,500 miles.

THE CHICAGO ELECTION.

No Definite Knowledge Yet as to Who is the Garden City's New Mayor—Charges of Fraud.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The office of the election commissioners was filled with interested spectators Thursday afternoon to witness the official canvass of the vote cast in the recent municipal election. Judge Pendergast, W. C. Asay and H. O'Brien represented the democrats and W. T. Underwood, E. R. Bliss and Coroner Hertz the republicans. Shortly after 2 o'clock the canvassing board, consisting of County Judge Seales, Commissioners Luke Conroy, W. W. English and J. Healey, took seats, the city attorney, the fifth member, being absent through sickness. After a lengthy argument upon the legality of proceeding in the absence of the city attorney, it was finally decided to postpone the canvass until today at 2 p. m., when it is hoped the city attorney will be present.

Both parties still claim that their candidates have been successful by small pluralities, but nothing definite will be known until the official canvass is completed, which may not be for several days yet. The republicans are vehement in their charges of fraud, and claim to have strong proof that the returns from several precincts have been tampered with in the interest of Cregier.

A WOULD-BE MATRICIDE.

James Coward, of Jeffersonville, Ind., Tried to Murder His Mother.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 10.—James Coward, residing 4 miles from this city, made an attempt to murder his mother, Eliza Coward, 54 years old. She had called him a wife name, when, without warning, he went to a drawer in the house, and producing a horse-pistol loaded to the muzzle with powder and slugs, took deliberate aim at his mother and fired. The contents of the weapon took effect squarely in her face. She is still alive. After the attempt Coward walked into the city and gave himself up to the authorities saying that he wanted to be summarily punished.

SIMLA, April 10.—A letter received here from the leader of the Manipuris who ordered the massacre of British soldiers and children in addition they threw weapons and children into the burning houses and destroyed the temples. Therefore we killed Chief Commissioner Quinton's party. The party referred to as killed by the Manipuris was composed of Chief Commissioner Quinton, Col. Skene, in command of the escort of Ghoorkas; Lieut. Simpson, Mr. F. St. C. Grimwood, the British political agent at Manipur, and Messrs. Cossins and McNeill, the three last named gentlemen being civilians.

LONDON, April 10.—A dispatch from Simla says that the Manipuris have made another attack upon the weak detachment of Ghoorkas commanded by Lieut. Thibet, who recently captured Fort Thibet after a stubborn fight with over ten times their number. The Manipuri advance was vigorously conducted, the natives facing a destructive fire with remarkable courage and forcing the assault with the utmost gallantry. The engagement lasted three hours and concluded with the repulse of the Manipuris. The usurping rajah and two prominent chiefs of the insurgents were killed during the battle. The loss in killed and wounded of tribesmen was very heavy.

Notwithstanding the fact that they gave one of the greatest performances ever seen upon any stage, they have proven a failure, through the fact that the people were afraid of them. The performance was given in a thirty-foot cage, placed before the footlights, but there was a constant feeling of alarm, lest they might escape and do damage to the spectators.

MUST PAY $1,300 FOR TWO BOYS.—Either Rock or Walworth County Has a Good Sized Bill.

Either Walworth or Rock county must pay a bill of $1,300 for the support of two boys in the St. Francis Industrial school at Milwaukee. A suit just begun in Judge Winslow's court makes Walworth county a defendant. Some time in the early part of 1883, two boys, John and Patrick Connolly, came with their mother from Johnston, Rock county, to Whitewater. The family were provided with some of the necessities of life by the authorities of Whitewater. At the meeting of the county board, Whitewater was allowed all that had been paid to the family, and Rock county asked to reimburse Walworth county for this amount, which was promptly done. About this time Father Fairbanks, of Whitewater, to rescue the lads from the streets, secured signatures of prominent citizens of Whitewater asking Judge Golder to send the boys to the Boys' Home Industrial school at St. Francis.

Judge Golder committed the boys to this institution and in due time came the claim from the school for allowance for the boys' food and clothing. This the Walworth county board refused to allow, claiming that the boys were Rock county paupers, not having gained a residence in this county when they were committed. The question is now to be decided in the circuit court and if Walworth county wins, proceedings against Rock county will probably follow.

WILL REBUILD THE BAKERY.—R. L. Colvin Preparing to Make Material Improvements.

R. L. Colvin will soon transform his North Main street Boston bakery property into a more commodious and convenient building. He will put in a plate glass front, new floors and new ceilings throughout. While the store will continue under the management of the Colvin Baking Company, no baking will be done here after May first, the entire bakery of ovens being located at the new establishment now being fitted on West Milwaukee street. The front part of the Main street store will be fitted for the sale of bread, cakes, pies and confectionery, while a portion of the lower room will be partitioned off as a lunch room. "I propose fitting the old building up in first class shape," said Mr. R. L. Colvin, to a Gazette reporter, "and will make everything as good as new."

A WEIRD LOVER.—David Kerr's Peculiar Story Attracts Much Attention.

The last chapter of David Kerr's fascinating story "A Weird Lover" appears in this issue of The Gazette. Those who have missed the earlier chapters or who failed to complete the stories that preceded it, can secure copies of the paper at the Gazette counting room. The novellets have proved a very popular feature. The "Possible Cases" series, which succeeds them, is likely to be even more so. The "Possible Case," sketched for readers of The Gazette tomorrow, will be "Delamplie's Lost Day," by Edgar Fawcett. Mr. Fawcett's powers of imagination are so well known that a "remote possibility" from his pen is likely to be well worth reading.

M'LEAN'S DOG TOOK A PRIZE.

Point On Which the Janesville Mastiff Won At Chicago.

C. C. McLean is feeling as proud in the possession of his fine mastiff as a little boy with his first pair of red top boots.

Mr. McLean, or rather Mrs. McLean, exhibited one of the mastiffs in Battery D, Chicago, this week, at the great bench show of the Mascot Kennel club, and won second prize. There was close competition, and the awarding of second place to the Janesville dog was a victory of no little significance. The judge told Mr. McLean his dog was as good as any in America.

"From the head back," he said, "he is the best in the country."

The first prize was won by a half brother of McLean's dog. No other dogs from this city were exhibited, although Mr. McLean thinks several might have gained good prizes had they been on exhibition.

SWINDLED ALU. LUTZ

A Forged Check Passed Upon the Fourth Ward Grocer.

JNO. SOULMAN'S NAME USED

A Small Piece of Paper the Signature on Which Purporting to Be His Disposed of for Seventeen Dollars To a City Official.

Alderman-Elect August Lutz, of the Fourth ward, is out $17.50 on a forged check, signed with John Soulmans name, and made payable to "George B. Langdon."

The check was drawn on the Merchants' & Mechanics' Savings Bank and is written a feminine running hand. It was presented to the eagle-eyed cashier by a man whom Lutz is unable to describe. Lutz, in turn, presented it to B. Strache, the proprietor of the Monterey flour mill, who accepted it. Later he took it to the Merchants' & Mechanics' Bank and received his money.

Soulman does his banking business with the Rock County National Bank and when the check was sent to them from the Merchants' & Mechanics' Cashier B. B. Smith at once detected the fraud and refused payment on the check, and it was returned to the Merchants' & Mechanics' bank, and Strache and Lutz were notified.

Then the alderman hustled up to see Soulman.

"Did you give a check to a fellow for $17.50?" he enquired as he wiped the perspiration from his brow at Soulman's cigar factory.

"No, sir," replied John in a gentle, but firm voice, "I did not."

"Then I'm swindled," replied the alderman as he turned toward the door.

"Could you recognize the man who gave it to you?" asked John as he cut the end off a "Zelda."

"I think I could if I should see him again."

"Was he young or old?"

"I don't know."

"Did he have a mustache or 'was he smooth-shaven?"

"I couldn't exactly say."

"Well, perhaps you could recognize him if you saw him again," said John, "but I have doubts on the question."

The alderman departed and Marshal Acheson now carries the check in his vest pocket and has a pair of steel wristlets in his coat pocket for the forger but as yet has not succeeded in finding the man.

WILL SPEAK FOR MEDALS.

Oratorical Contests Arranged for the Rock County Fair.

One of the most attractive features of the Rock County Fair, will be an oratorical contest, conducted on the Democratic Medal plan, whereby a graded series of medals, four in number—silver, gold, grand gold and diamond—may be won in the order named according to the following rules:

Eight young persons between the ages of 12 and 21, may recite before an audience, temperance selections taken from the Democratic books, and the one adjudged to have made the best recitation will be awarded a silver medal in a satin hand morocco case. Eight holding the silver medal may compete for a gold medal; eight holding gold medals may compete for a grand gold medal, and eight holding the latter may compete for a diamond medal.

Three judges are selected to mark the contestants on five points—voice, articulation, gesture, memory and general effect. The one receiving the sum total of credits on these five points will be awarded a medal.

These contests are very popular, over 16,000 medals having been won during the last four years. Two beneficial results come from them—the dissemination of temperance facts and principles, and the development of oratorical ability. The work this year will cost W. Jennings Demorest, of New York, who furnishes the medals free, $29,000.

It is proposed to conduct a gold medal contest at the Rock County Fair on Thursday, September 10, at 10 a. m., and continue through the day. The contestants will come from various parts of the county. It will be an exciting exhibit of oratorical ability, and will be a drawing card for the fair.

Rev. E. O. Taylor, of Lake Geneva, the state superintendent of this work, writes that Rock county has the honor of proposing the first county-fair contest. Miss Lizzie Gillies, of Evansville, county superintendent of Demorest medal work will have this contest in charge and contestants are requested to send in their names to Secretary Heimstreet, immediately.

Think the Game Law Dead.

Duck hunters think that the game law will be killed in the senate. Mr. Williams' amendment, prohibiting the use of dogs, is not a popular one, and many agree that unless that amendment is voted down the bill is of little account. While the fate of the law hangs in the balance, however, ducks are flying, and the crack shots are taking advantage of the interregnum existing on account of the abolition of game wardens, to taste the flesh of the blue birds.

Orange Grove For I. C. Sloan.

Hon. I. C. Sloan has purchased a tract of land on the Indian river, Florida, on which he will plant an orange grove. Already he has several hundred trees on the tract just coming into bearing. The land purchased is just on the banks of the Indian river, considered the richest section of that state for fruit growing, especially for oranges.

Delamplie's Lost Day.

The "Possible Cases" series has caused much discussion among Gazette readers, Edgar Fawcett has conjured up a possibility that will be presented to-morrow evening entitled "Delamplie's Lost Day."

Mr. Fawcett's explanation of how twenty-four hours slipped from a steady-going man's calendar, will be well worth reading.

More Rain Coming.

Forecast for Janesville and vicinity—Rain.

TRAINS IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

"The Limited Mail" Presented With Usual Accessories.

Realism is carried to such an extent in these times that nothing seems impossible to the bustling manager. Farm life has been portrayed with real cows, real milk and real horses. Saw mills and log jacks find a place among scenic effects. Railroads are built and mines blown up. But a railroad train dashing across the stage is a novelty. The Limited Mail presents this feature and presents it successfully.

When the train crossed the stage at the Myers last night, the audience cheered and applauded most enthusiastically, for the effect produced was really something startling.

The play abounds in startling features. The scenic effects, on which the piece depends, are very good. Elmer E. Vance, the author of the play, personally superintends the management of the stage effects, which may explain the high order maintained.

Among the actors especial praise was bestowed upon Harry Blaney as "the ambitious kid." His acrobatic work was unusually good. W. J. Dixon, Lew Bloom and Joe Coyne were the other strong members of the cast.

The piece will be presented again this evening and should be greeted by a full house.

Elmer E. Vance, manager of the Limited Mail company, received a telegram last night from J. M. Hill, manager of the Union Square Theater, New York, city, asking for a booking for 1891 and 1892. Hill expressed himself as greatly taken by the "Limited Mail," and said he wanted a long engagement.

The next attraction at the Myers is W. J. Klenow's romantic Irish comedy "Inshavogue," Monday evening. Seats will be placed on sale to-morrow morning.

The Brooklyn Eagle says: "Imagination cannot conceive the magnificence of the production. New scenery of wealth and impressive grandeur, mechanical effects of astonishing ingenuity, elegant costumes, delightful singing, artistic dancing, original music, all blend perfectly together."

"Pat Rooney's New Wardrobe" comes to the Myers Wednesday evening. Rooney needs no introduction to Janesville playgoers.

CO-EMPLOYEE BILL DEAD.

Democrats Show Their Sympathy for Railroad Men.

THE LOBBY HARD AT WORK

Dr. Anderson's Congressional Gerrymander Passed by a Strict Party Vote in the Senate—The Legislative Apportionment Ready.

MADISON, April 10.—[Special].—The senate finally passed the congressional apportionment by a vote of eighteen to thirteen—a strict party vote. The assembly passed a bill making Scribner the standard for scaling logs.

Both houses hold evening sessions. The senate and assembly apportionment bills will be reported to the legislature Saturday.

The assembly last night gave the co-employee bill its quietus. It was declared in answer to the opposition that the reason why the employees were not here, the ones who most needed this important enactment, was because they were the subordinate ones and dared not come as other lobbyists did, for they knew that they would lose their employment if they did. In 1889 the railroad corporations with their mighty power on the floor beat a bill similar to the present one. It was just legislation and it ought to pass. In spite of these arguments, however, Ed. Keogh's motion to table was adopted.

The assembly bill in incorporating Brotherhood as a city was concurred in by the senate.

COUNTING THE VOTES.

Canvassers at Work on Rock County Ballots.

The board of county canvassers—County Clerk T. T. Croft, County Judge J. W. Sale and Supervisor Chapman, of Harmony, are busy this afternoon compiling the vote cast in Rock county for associate justice of the supreme court. The returns in many cases are made in very irregular form. One was brought into the county clerk's office by a messenger, unsealed, not even the poll-book being protected by an envelope.

In some cases the blanks furnished by the county clerk for the purpose were not used, the only return being contained in the poll-book. The first precinct in the Fourth ward returned the tally sheet in lieu of the regular form furnished.

The result in the county was:
